For the Winter GO TO
BERMUDA AND WEST INDIES.

THE Quebec Steamship Company's Lines of Steamers to the Bermuda Islands and the West Indies offer to tourists and invalids a choice of marvelously attractive places in which to pass away the dreary winter months,

The increasing popularity of the Bermudas on account of the healthful, equable climate, semi-tropical scenery, and world-wide fame for picturesqueness, has given the company such assurances of success as to warrant their constructing, at great expense, the elegant Steamships "Trinoco" and "Trinidad," which ply weekly to and from the Islands during January, February, March, April, May and June.

The Roads are generally level, with easy grades over the hills, and are constructed entirely of fine sandstone, free from dust and mud, and perfect for cycling. Several tours for bicyclists will be arranged for Bermuda for the holidays and during the Winter. Temperature ranges from 60 to 65 degrees in December, January and February.

The vessels fitted out with special reference to the Bermuda trade have electric lights, masts and all the modern improvements and facilities for a safe, speedy and enjoyable voyage. The large, well furnished cabins are in every way adapted to the necessities and comfort of the traveler.

The journey from New York to Hamilton Harbor is made in the remarkably short time of 48 hours.

The West India Islands TOUCHED at by the Quebec S. S. Co.'s Steamers, namely, St. Thomas, St. Croix, St. Kitts, Antigua; Guadalupe, Dominica, Martinique, St. Lucia, Barbados, and Demerara, offer a greater variety of scenery, races, manners and customs of people than can be found in the same distance. Sailings every ten days.

Steamers of 3000 tons, with every convenience, electric lights, etc., are now running on this route.

PREFACE.

This Directory can not take the place of The American Baptist Year Book. It seeks to do what the Year-Book can not do. That publication contains the names, and the names only, of twenty-eight thousand, four hundred and nine ordained Baptist ministers, with their latest known postoffice addresses. But a name is no index of character or of work. Those who study the affairs of the denomination and wish to know something of the men who are doing the work must seek information in some other direction.

It is not presumed that this Directory gives all that some may desire to tell; but it is believed to be a reasonably concise and complete history of each of those whose names it contains, and he who studies it will form a very fair, if not always satisfactory idea of his contemporaries in the great field into which their Master has sent them.

Only he who has had some experience can form any conception of the vast amount of work required for such a compilation as is here presented. Twenty-eight thousand names to be considered; eighteen thousand of them canvassed with regard to this book; the laggards to be reminded of their opportunity; circulars sent to some of them, again and again; corrections to be made in first reports sent in; questions to be answered and suspicions to be allayed; some grumblers to be placated and caveats to be regarded; many men of many minds to be recognized—it has been a work of patience and persistence, requiring months of labor, thousands of dollars of outlay, with only the hope of compensation when the work is finally completed.

This work could not have been accomplished but for the assistance of so able a man as Rev. E. S. Robinson, D. D., whose previous experience in the preparation of a similar book for the Presbyterian ministry eminently qualified him for such a service. To him, more than to any other, is the conception and the completion of the Directory due. And it has this advantage that, being himself connected with another denomination, Dr. Robinson could have no prejudice, great or small against any man whose name or record came before him for consideration and reproduction. He has dealt with his material with the utmost fairness and generosity, and the editor feels to felicitate himself in that from any criticism on the report of any individual he can hide behind Dr. Robinson.

In private conversation, Dr. Robinson has expressed his great delight with many things coming to his knowledge, through his correspondence and study. He is especially delighted with the evidence that men who have not received the advantages of the schools, whether college or seminary, have shown themselves so efficient and successful in the work of the ministry, justifying, by their lives and labors and achievements, their ordination, thus giving evidence that their call is of God.

It is confidently believed that this Directory stands as the greatest work of its kind in the country. It is an abbreviated history of at least twelve thousand zealous Baptist ministers. To gather this data the lists of names in forty-nine states and territories had to be gone over again and again. Some of the names were found in two or more lists, they having been gone two to five years from the states in which they are reported to be located. Some of the names stood for men who had been dead for years, but were still retained in the roll of ministers, as recorded in the Year-Book. More than two thousand letters were returned from postoffices marked "Address unknown." While we congratulate ourselves on what has been accomplished, it is to be regretted that it was not possible to secure the data of every minister in the denomination. That it has not been done is not due to any lack of effort or expense. Some did not send in their reports, because they were on farms, or in the shop, or at the desk, and not actively engaged in the work of the ministry; some (a very few) because they were prejudiced against such a publication and would have nothing to do with it; some because the colored brethren were not to be included, and still others, because they could not speak of education in college or seminary.

As to the omission of the colored brethren, it may be permitted to say that it would have given pleasure to include them, had there been any reason to suppose that the effort would have been successful. It must be remembered that there are some ten thousand of them, a large minority of whom can not read and write, while some who can write can not frame sentences so as to make themselves intelligible, and would not be able to reply to the questions asked them. They have been ordained and enrolled, often to meet a temporary want, either on their own part or on the part of some church. They have no record of church work or of study. The best friends of their race think that they ought not to have been ordained. Many of their own race so declare themselves. It is to be hoped that the time will speedily come when the colored Baptists will have a ministry commensurate with their needs. It is not forgotten that there are among them now a great many excellent men, able to compare favorably with their white brethren, but their number is as yet comparatively small.

That errors of transcription and proof-reading will not be found in this book is too much to expect. When pointed out, no one will be more annoyed than the editor and the publishers. But they will not be the result of carelessness. The proof-reading has been done by competent hands, and the editor has personally gone over the whole with all the care that a long experience in that line has suggested.

As it is, the book is sent forth with the hope that it will be accepted by those interested as the best that can be done at the present time, and that it will meet the expectation of the brethren who have kindly contributed to its production and to the financial support of the enterprise.

GET THE BEST!

Strong's Concordance ^{of} the Bible.

Every other Concordance, of whatever name, omits many words and very many passages altogether; this exhibits every word and every passage in which each occurs. *

BESIDES ITS COMPLETENESS, IT HAS OTHER POINTS OF SUPERIORITY.

It is the Simplest Concordance. The whole Main Concordance is under one straightforward alphabetical list, and in the exact succession of book, chapter, and verse. Every text in the Bible having any relation to any Topic will be found under the title of said Topic. All other Concordances vary from this principle, which is essential to convenience and rapidity in use.

It is a Bible Lexicon, containing all the significant Hebrew, Chaldee, and Greek words of the original Scriptures, with pronunciation plainly marked, and giving a complete list of the different words into which they are translated.

It is also a Concordance of the New Version, and the only Concordance that takes notice of the American Variations.

The work is published in a single large quarto volume of more than 1,800 pages, new type, on good paper, bindings and prices as follows:

Fine Cloth,	$6 00
Half Russia, Cloth Sides,	8 00
Half Morocco, extra strong,	10 00
